

12th Sunday in Ordinary Time ✕ June 25, 2017

Scripture Meditation: Jeremiah 20:10-13; Romans 5:12-15; Matthew 10:26-33

Peter was a lover of God. So were all the other apostles who fled at Jesus' arrest. They may have failed Jesus at the moment, but Jesus never failed them. And He won't fail us!

"Jesus, I love You. Teach me to remain steadfast." Printed with the permission of The Word Among Us 2017

Evangelization Corner Fear is a universal experience. Sometimes fear of other people, or their disapproval, leads us to act against our religious beliefs. Jesus cautions us to put our fear where it belongs: we should fear the loss of eternal life far more than we fear the threats of human beings, mortal and accountable like ourselves.

Summer Reading on our HNJ website www.hnojchurch.org Click on the Family Living icon for articles that include; "Growing Together in Good Soil" "How do you and your partner care for your spirit, faith and relationship, in order to be the good soil where your children can flourish? Take heart. There are very simple things we can do every day to enrich our marriages and thus enrich our children's lives." by Connie Carlson.

Or the Daily Pope Francis Reflections, "God prefers humility" "If God prefers humility it is not to dishearten us: rather, humility is the necessary condition to be raised by him, so as to experience the mercy that comes to fill our emptiness." Reflection: Many consider humility as a stumbling block to "getting ahead" in society. What does humility mean to you? For Christians, humility means taking up the right amount of space in the world, not so little as to devalue the dignity inherent in each person nor too much as to leave no room for the Holy Spirit to dwell. How does the way you live both give God glory and honor your dignity as a beloved child of God?
